

Creating long-term shareholder value

Travelport is a unique business. Our focus on travel commerce makes us fundamentally different to our competitors and we offer distinct advantages to our various stakeholders.

Our competitive strengths set us apart, our pillars focus us, and through our technological innovations and content leadership we are continually redefining the way our customers buy and sell travel.

We are, and will continue to be, the Platform that is redefining travel commerce for our customers. All of which allows us to create long-term and sustainable value for our shareholders.

Strong core

We operate within a strong and structurally growing travel and tourism industry. Our core travel distribution business model is resilient, recurring and transaction-based with strong competitive advantages.

Differentiated focus

We have leveraged our core competencies with a differentiated 'platform' approach to address the evolving travel commerce ecosystem. We are focused on, and have leadership positions in, airline merchandising, hotel and other distribution, B2B payments and mobile commerce.

Leading technology

Over the last five years we have invested in and significantly upgraded our technology platform so that we can maximize connectivity and distribution options for travel content providers, while also enabling value creation at the selling end of the Platform through our industry-leading point-of-sale solutions.

Truly global

With a presence in approximately 180 countries, we have the broadest international presence in our industry, allowing us to leverage the international focus of our customers.

Focused on the markets that need us

We are strongly focused on corporate and service-premium travel where choice, flexibility and itinerary management are key customer requirements.

Compelling financials

We have entered into a clear growth phase with multiple, compelling drivers.

Disciplined capital allocation

Relative to our peers, Travelport is a capital-light model with strong free cash flow generation - with a clear and disciplined approach to capital allocation.
